

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: September 29, 2026

Misaine Inc. (“Misaine,” “we,” “us,” or “our”) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting the personal information you choose to provide to us. This Privacy Policy describes how Misaine Inc. collects, uses, protects, and handles personal information submitted through misaine.com (the “Website”).

1. Information We Collect

Our website is primarily informational. We collect limited personal information only when you voluntarily provide it to us, such as when you contact us through the Website.

The personal information we may collect includes:

Name

Email address

Message or other information you choose to provide in your communication

Please do not submit sensitive personal information through the Website unless specifically requested by Misaine.

2. How We Use Your Information

We use personal information submitted through the Website only for legitimate business purposes, including to:

Respond to your questions, requests, or inquiries;

Communicate with you regarding your inquiry;

Evaluate potential business relationships or opportunities;

Provide information that you have requested; and

Maintain appropriate business and communication records.

We do not use information submitted through the Website to send unsolicited marketing or promotional emails.

3. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

Misaine does not use advertising cookies, behavioral advertising technologies, Google Analytics, Google Ads, Meta Pixel, or similar tracking technologies on the Website. We do not track visitors across third-party websites for advertising purposes. Because we do not engage in cross-site behavioral tracking, browser-based “Do Not Track” signals do not change the operation of our Website. Third parties do not collect personally identifiable information through the Website on Misaine's behalf for behavioral advertising or cross-site tracking purposes.

4. Sharing of Personal Information

Misaine does not sell personal information. Misaine does not share personal information for cross-context behavioral or targeted advertising. Information submitted through our Website is not provided to outside vendors or service providers for their own use. We may, however, disclose personal information if reasonably necessary to:

- Comply with applicable law, regulation, legal process, or governmental request;
- Protect the rights, property, security, or safety of Misaine, our personnel, or others;
- Investigate or prevent fraud, security incidents, or other unlawful activity; or
- Facilitate a merger, acquisition, reorganization, financing, sale of assets, or similar corporate transactions, subject to applicable legal requirements.

5. Business-to-Business Website

Misaine primarily provides products and services to businesses and other organizations. Individuals who contact us through the Website generally do so in a professional or business capacity. Nevertheless, personal information relating to an identifiable individual may be protected by applicable privacy and data protection laws, and we handle such information in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

6. Data Retention

We retain personal information only for as long as reasonably necessary for the purposes for which it was collected, including responding to inquiries, maintaining appropriate business records, establishing or maintaining business relationships, and complying with applicable legal obligations. When personal information is no longer reasonably necessary for these purposes, we may delete or anonymize it, subject to applicable law.

7. Data Security

Misaine uses reasonable administrative, technical, and organizational safeguards designed to protect personal information against unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, loss, or misuse. However, no method of transmission over the Internet or electronic storage system can be guaranteed to be completely secure. Accordingly, we cannot guarantee the absolute security of information transmitted to or stored by us.

8. Your Privacy Rights

Depending on where you live, applicable privacy laws may provide you with certain rights regarding your personal information. These rights may include the right to:

Request information about personal information we maintain about you;

Request access to your personal information;

Request correction of inaccurate personal information;

Request deletion of your personal information;

Object to or request restriction of certain processing; and

Withdraw consent where processing is based on consent.

These rights may be subject to exceptions and limitations under applicable law. To make a privacy-related request, please contact us at privacy@misaine.com. We may need to verify your identity before processing certain requests.

9. California Privacy Information

Misaine Inc. is headquartered in California. California residents may have rights regarding their personal information under applicable California privacy laws. The categories of personal information Misaine collects through the Website are limited primarily to identifiers, such as name and email address, and the information contained in communications that individuals voluntarily submit to us. Misaine does not sell personal information and does not share personal information for cross-context behavioral advertising. If applicable law provides you with rights to access, correct, or delete personal information maintained by Misaine, you may submit a request by emailing privacy@misaine.com. Misaine will not unlawfully discriminate against an individual for exercising applicable privacy rights.

10. Information for Visitors from the European Economic Area and United Kingdom

If you are located in the European Economic Area (“EEA”) or United Kingdom (“UK”), applicable data protection law may provide additional rights concerning your personal data. When you voluntarily contact Misaine regarding our business, products, services, or a potential business relationship, we generally process the information you provide because it is necessary to respond to your request and/or because we have a legitimate interest in communicating with existing and prospective business contacts. Depending on the circumstances and applicable law, you may have rights to access, correct, erase, restrict, or object to the processing of your personal data and, where applicable, a right to data portability or to withdraw consent. You may also have the right to lodge a complaint with the data protection authority in the country where you reside or work. Because Misaine Inc. is headquartered in the United States, information you provide to us may be processed and stored in the United States. Privacy and data protection laws in the United States may differ from those in your country. For questions or requests concerning your personal data, contact privacy@misaine.com.

11. Children's Privacy

The Website is intended for business and professional audiences and is not directed to children. Misaine does not knowingly collect personal information through the Website from children under the age of 13. If we learn that a child under 13 has submitted personal information through the Website, we will take reasonable steps to delete that information. If you believe a child has provided personal information to us, please contact privacy@misaine.com.

12. Third-Party Links

The Website may contain links to websites operated by third parties. Misaine is not responsible for the privacy practices, security, or content of third-party websites. We encourage visitors to review the privacy policies of third-party websites before providing personal information to them.

13. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy periodically to reflect changes to our practices, Website, legal requirements, or other circumstances. When we make changes, we will post the revised Privacy Policy on this Website and update the "Effective Date" at the top of the policy. We encourage visitors to review this Privacy Policy periodically.

14. Contact Us
